Dear Parent/Carer

Re: Resources for Practical Lessons and Components for All Technology Projects

As part of the KS3 National Curriculum in Design and Technology, your son/daughter will complete food studies, product design and electronics.

To ensure that every student has the opportunity to experience the range of practical activities as indicated above, I have decided to supply all resources for each planned practical activity throughout the academic year at a proportionate cost to parents. In doing so, this will hopefully take some burden from parents in not only cost but also trying to source the items. I sincerely hope that you, as parents, will support me in this decision by contributing some of the cost.

With this in mind, the overall cost price contribution for all resources throughout the academic year will be £19.50 per student. I would be most grateful if you could make this payment via ParentPay by 31 October 2017.

To ensure your «sondaughter»'s continual safety in food lessons, I would be grateful if you could let me know at your earliest convenience if your «sondaughter» has any food specific allergies, intolerances or special dietary requirements.

Many thanks for your anticipated support.

PLEASE NOTE
